Going first to Chicago, she will leave there for her old home in Duluth, where she will spend some time with friends and relatives. The return trip will be made by way of Seattle, and down the coast. We trust she has a very pleasant vacation.

SPIRIT OF '49 GOLD RUSH IS LIVED AGAIN

Some Young and Adventurous Might But Not Many

The recent celebration in Sacramento, California, of the days of the gold rush of 1849, have recalled one of the most notable achievements of American spirit.

How many men aer there today, who, if the conditions the '49ers had to meet, were repeated, would have the nerve to cross an unknown continent in an old prairie schooner, and face perils from savages, the desert, thirst and starvation?

The present generation has grown so accustomed to fat and easy living, that that pioneer spirit seems almost to have died out. Our people as they journeyed across the plains enjoying all the comforts of modern travel, have no conception of the courage and endurance it took to make a journey like that.

To set out across a pathless wilderness, without knowing how they were to live, or how their rough old wagons were to be drawn through sand over great mountain chains, how they were to get water and food, would seem today to our comfortable city and town dwellers a preposterous and foolhardy undertaking. Some young and adventurous people might do it today. But not many.

The early gold seekers must have realized that many of those who preceded them had left their bones to dry on their trackless wastes. They must have known that their beasts of burden might never be able to carry themselves and their belongings over the sands of the desert and through mountain passes. But they laughed at such perils, and went on with dauntless spirit.

It is that determination that has

Floyd Trush, who has been in the employ of C. A. Paxman for six months, and is well known and liked by the patrons of both the Torrance and Lomita stores, has gone to the Llewellyn Iron Works, where he was previously employed as a mechanic.

A miscellaneous snowder was given Mrs. Frank Wheeler, of North Narbonne avenue last Thursday afternoon, by the ladies of the Baptist Union, of Torrance. Mrs. Wheeler received many useful and beautiful gifts.

made America great. This capacity to endure hardships and meet difficulties built up a country that has become the foremost on earth. If its welfare is to be maintained, this spirit of accomplishment and endurance can not be permitted to die out.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Jilson and daughter Miriam, Mrs. P. W. Gray and Mrs. Anna Dowd, of Los Angeles, were guests recently at dinner of Mrs. Ernest Wilcox.
